

VERSYS CLINICS MISSION STATEMENT INFECTION CONTROL

Versys Clinics Human Reproduction Institute is committed to develop a local antibiotic and infection control program, which fits into the national professional program, and follows its objectives. The local antibiotic and infection control program reveals the problems and helps to prevent hospital acquired infections. It considers the regulation and controlling of the clinic's hygiene to be its task.

The institute follows the national and international professional standards and the latest diagnostic and therapeutic guidelines as well as the national and international recommendations. It contributes to the optimal use of antibiotics with its infection control activity, by which it also supports the provision of appropriate, safe and effective patient care.
